

THE FUTURE OF LEARNING

Update 2-14-19

Task Force Discussion

A grade alignment community task force is meeting to review prior master planning materials and discuss studies related to grade configuration.

Community Input

Tuesday night five community task forces met to discuss Treasure Mountain Junior High, grade alignment, the Kearns Campus, school locations, and school/class sizes. A transportation task force will meet later this month. The results of the task force meetings will be presented to the public in a series of two open houses (see below) to generate additional input from the community.

Quote

"Our educators have been meeting regularly with the consultant team to identify what type of spaces best support learning. Our teachers are telling us that schools need to include: a variety of settings for all types of learners, active engagement, and spaces for hands-on learning, collaborative learning, and outdoor learning."

– Superintendent Jill Gildea –

Coming Up

Wednesday, Feb. 27
5 - 7 p.m., Park City High

Thursday, Feb. 28
6 - 8 p.m., Ecker Hill Middle

How do issues like grade alignment, class size and school location best support learning and academic excellence? Get a first-hand look at what our educators and task force members think – and add your voice to the conversation.