

THE FUTURE OF LEARNING

Update 3-14-19

Community-Based Vision

Superintendent Jill Gildea discussed a community-based education vision with the Steering Committee Tuesday, and its importance in creating a system to deliver on that vision.

Last Chance for Input

We invite you to send your ideas about the future of schools in Park City, to Clio Rayner, GSBS Project Manager, crayner@gsbsarchitects.com, by the end of March. GSBS will present education master plan options to the Board of Education on April 16.

Quote

"My observations of the educational master planning process are quite positive. The guiding principles align with the district's mission and vision and are consistent with best practices around the country. They also reflect some of the unique aspects of Park City."

– Superintendent Jill Gildea

Next Steps

March

Superintendent holding meetings with community leaders to seek feedback

April

Polling for input on common themes

April 16

Options presented to Board of Education

May 21

Board reviews final options and adopts plan

2019-20 School Year

Develop action and implementation plans